

CONTRIBUTORS

Katarzyna Anzorge – Holocaust memory, postcolonial theory, post-dependence studies and memory studies; a PhD candidate at the University of Lodz Doctoral School of Humanities (the PhD dissertation ‘Polish Holocaust Memory in the Era of Transformation: A Post-Dependence Perspective’);
e-mail: katarzyna.anzorge@edu.uni.lodz.pl

Agnieszka Bartoszewicz – medieval urban history, history of Polish culture, social communication in the Middle Ages; professor at the Faculty of History, University of Warsaw; e-mail: abartoszewicz@uw.edu.pl

Maria Cieśla – early modern history; assistant professor at the Tadeusz Manteuffel Institute of History, Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: mciesla@ihpan.edu.pl

Karolina Ćwiek-Rogalska – anthropology, post-displacement regions in Slavic Central Europe ; PhD, assistant professor at the Institute of Slavic Studies, Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: karolina.cwiek-rogalska@ispan.edu.pl

Paweł Dobrosielski – memory of the Holocaust and the Second World War, discourse analysis, collective memory and critical theory; associate professor at the Institute of Polish Culture, Faculty of Polish Studies, University of Warsaw;
e-mail: p.dobrosielski@uw.edu.pl

Sabina Giergiel – memory studies, Holocaust studies; translator, Slavist, and philologist specialising in literature of the former Yugoslavia; professor at the Department of Philology of the Jagiellonian University, Kraków;
e-mail: sabina.giergiel@uj.edu.pl

Szymon Głąb – 19th- and 20th-century history of Portugal, history of the late Portuguese colonial empire; PhD candidate at the Tadeusz Manteuffel Institute of History, Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: szymonglab.kontakt@gmail.com

Krzysztof Jaskułowski – nationalism, memory studies, history of 20th-century Poland; professor of sociology at SWPS University of Social Sciences and Humanities in Warsaw; e-mail: kjaskulowski@swps.edu.pl

Maria Kobielska – contemporary Polish memory culture; currently leading a research project on new historical museums in Poland; PhD, memory scholar, assistant professor at the Faculty of Polish Studies of the Jagiellonian University in Cracow, founding member of the Research Centre for Memory Cultures and current member of the Executive Committee of Memory Studies Association;
e-mail: maria.kobielska@uj.edu.pl

Joanna Konieczna-Sałamatin – values in public life, national identity, and systemic transition in Ukraine, Poland and Eastern Europe; sociologist and social researcher with a passion; associate professor at the Faculty of Sociology, University of Warsaw; e-mail: jkonieczna@uw.edu.pl

Piotr Majewski – postcolonial studies, anthropology of sport, sociology of popular music and nationalism; associate professor at SWPS University of Social Sciences and Humanities in Warsaw; e-mail: pmajewski@swps.edu.pl

Barbara Markowska-Marczak – historical populism and images of the Second World War in the narrative museums in Central and Eastern Europe; sociologist of culture, memory studies researcher and philosopher; assistant professor in the Institute of Sociology at Collegium Civitas; e-mail: bmarkowska@civitas.edu.pl

Mateusz Mazzini – sociology of democratic transition, memory studies, sociology of memory, populism in Latin America and Central Europe, Polish democratic transition, Chilean democratic transition, populist discourse in media; senior lecturer at Collegium Civitas; e-mail: mateusz.mazzini@civitas.edu.pl

Anna Michałowska-Mycielska – history of Jews in the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth; professor of the Faculty of History, University of Warsaw; e-mail: a.michalowska@uw.edu.pl

Agnieszka Mrozik – gender, generations, communism in Central and Eastern Europe; critical analysis of public discourse (including media and popular culture); women's history and feminist movement in Central and Eastern Europe; assistant professor at the Institute of Literary Research of the Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: agnieszka.mrozik@ibl.waw.pl

Izabela Mrzygłód – social history of Eastern and Central Europe, student movements, far-right studies; postdoctoral researcher at the Institute of Slavic Studies, Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: izabela.mrzyglod@ispan.waw.pl

Magdalena Nowicka-Franczak – public and collective memory of the Shoah and the Second World War, public debate in Central and Eastern Europe, systemic transition in Poland, post-Foucauldian discourse analysis, postcolonial studies; assistant professor at the Institute of Sociology, University of Łódź; e-mail: m.nowicka_franczak@uni.lodz.pl

Małgorzata Rutkiewicz-Hanczewska – proper names, toponymy, urbanonymy, the theory of proper names, the neurobiology of naming, urban proper names and their relation to the development of the contemporary city; professor at the Institute of Polish Philology at the University of Adam Mickiewicz in Poznań; e-mail: rutkiewi@amu.edu.pl

Magdalena Saryusz-Wolska – memory studies, memory of the Second World War and the Holocaust, visual history, audience and reception studies; research fellow at the German Historical Institute Warsaw and associate professor at the University of Lodz; e-mail: saryusz-wolska@dhi.waw.pl

Katarzyna Sierakowska – 19th and 20th century history; associate professor at the Institute of History, Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: kasia.sierakowska@interia.pl

Kinga Siewior – Polish post-war culture and literature from the perspective of memory studies and migration studies; PhD, cultural studies scholar, assistant professor at the Faculty of Polish Studies of Jagiellonian University in Cracow, member of the Research Centre for Memory Cultures; e-mail: k.siewior@uj.edu.pl

Tomasz Stryjek – contemporary historiography, policies of memory, and historical cultures of the Central and Eastern European countries; historian and political scientist, head of the Department of Research on Eastern Europe's History and Memory in the Institute of Political Studies Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: tstryjek@wp.pl

Katarzyna Taczynska – contemporary culture in the context of memory in Eastern and Southern Europe, Holocaust studies, literature and art created by Jewish women in the Balkans; assistant professor at the Institute of Slavic Studies of the Polish Academy of Sciences in Warsaw, and researcher at University College Dublin on the project 'When Nationalism Fails. A Comparative Study of Holocaust Museums in ex collaborationist countries'; e-mail: katarzyna.taczynska@ispan.edu.pl

Justyna B. Walkowiak – proper names, urbanonymy, critical toponymy, anthroponymy, the relationships between Polish and Lithuanian personal names; associate professor at the Institute of Oriental Studies, Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań; e-mail: justwalk@amu.edu.pl

Joanna Wawrzyniak – memories of socialism, neoliberal transformation, and deindustrialization in Poland and contributions to collaborative research on cultural heritage and memory processes in Eastern Europe, Western Europe and East and South Asia, associate professor of sociology, director of the Centre for Research on Social Memory, Faculty of Sociology, University of Warsaw; president elect of the Memory Studies Association; e-mail: wawrzyniakj@is.uw.edu.pl

Hanna Węgrzynek – Jewish-Christian relations in the 15th–18th centuries and Jewish presence in Warsaw in the same period; the Holocaust in Polish school curricula (1943–2008); independent scholar; e-mail: hannaw44@gmail.com

Zofia Wóycicka – contemporary Polish and European history, memory and museums studies with a special focus on representations of the Second World War and the Holocaust in exhibitions; assistant professor at the Faculty of Sociology, University of Warsaw; e-mail: z.woycicka@is.uw.edu.pl