

CONTRIBUTORS

Fabian Baumann – history of nationalism and empire in Russia, Ukraine, and East Central Europe; postdoctoral research fellow in the Heidelberg Centre for Transcultural Studies, Heidelberg University; e-mail: fabian.baumann@hcts.uni-heidelberg.de

Błażej Brzostek – social and urban history, history of Warsaw, history of time and watches, history of Romania, everyday life, history of women; professor at the Faculty of History of the University of Warsaw; e-mail: b.brzostek@uw.edu.pl

Piotr Kuligowski – nineteenth-century intellectual history, parliamentary studies, political ideologies; leader of the group project financed by the National Science Centre at the Tadeusz Manteuffel Institute of History of the Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: pkuligowski@ihpan.edu.pl

Małgorzata Litwinowicz-Droździel – history of Polish and Central European culture of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, issues of modernisation and invention, social issues, anthropology of literature; associate professor in the Institute of Polish Culture, University of Warsaw; e-mail: m.litwinowicz@uw.edu.pl

Agata Łuksza – cultural studies, theatre and performance studies, fan studies, nineteenth-century cultural history, women's history, and history of colonialism and race; associate professor, Institute of Polish Culture, University of Warsaw; e-mail: agata.luksza@uw.edu.pl

Aleksander Łupienko – cultural history of the nineteenth-century urban space in (East) Central Europe, cultural history of architecture and conservation; associate professor at the Tadeusz Manteuffel Institute of History, Polish Academy of Sciences; e-mail: aleksander.lupienko@ihpan.edu.pl

Alicja Maślak-Maciejewska – Jewish history in Central Europe in the nineteenth century, with a focus on Galicia; assistant professor in the Department of Jewish History at the Institute of Jewish Studies, Jagiellonian University, and the head of the Centre for the Study of History and Culture of Krakow Jews at the Jagiellonian University; e-mail: alicja.maslak@uj.edu.pl

Konrad Meus – socio-economic history of the Habsburg Monarchy; director of the Institute of History and Archival Studies at the University of the National Education Commission, Cracow; e-mail: konrad.meus@uken.krakow.pl

Augusto Petter – nineteenth-century history, modern monarchies, Brazilian empire, theory and philosophy of history; research affiliate at the Democracy Institute, Central European University; e-mail: augusto.petter@sciencespo.fr

Katarzyna Ryszewska – archaeology of architecture, archaeology of the Middle Ages, history of archaeology in the nineteenth and twentieth century, everyday life in Polish lands in the nineteenth century; archaeologist and historian, professor at the Institute of History of the Jan Kochanowski University in Kielce; kryszewska@ujk.edu.pl